Seventeen poems about things that frighten children such as the dark, animals, spooks, vaccinations, bad dreams, and thunder. Explore what does and does not frighten author and illustrator kristine goralka in this delightful children's book. A funny, reassuring picture book about how to deal with worries—perfect for sharing. Small Stanley would like to be brave and fearless like a superhero. There's just one problem, though—some things make Stanley feel scared... "Write a list of all the things that scare you," says Grandpa. And Stanley does! Earwigs and centipedes are on the list, and the dark, and getting lost, and dogs and cats and lots and lots of other things. The list gets so long and Stanley gets so worried about forgetting fears to add to his list that he has no time to play with his friends... Things are getting out of hand, but Grandpa has a plan. One windy day they go for a walk. Stanley brings his list of course, but just as he's about to add 'wind' to the list... whoosh, the wind takes his list away. What will happen now to Stanley's worries? Do zombies like to try new foods? Do goblins have to brush their teeth? Would a robot ever come to your pool party? Even Scary Things Get the Blues is a clever collection of poems exploring the challenges creepy creatures face, that as it turns out, are not so different than the challenges kids face every day. From the unique imagination of David Buckner, each poem and illustration tells of the woes of some familiar, and some brand new, spooky characters. Kids and parents alike will giggle at every turn of the page. A great gift for anyone who is bored of the same old cutesy fairy tales, this creative book is bound to keep the kiddos entertained! Glenn Murphy shows us that it is OK to be scared and that there are very good reasons why we are able to feel fear. He looks closely at our most common fears, including natural disasters, predators, spiders, disease, needles, dentists, crashes, darkness, speaking in public, heights, ghosts and monsters, to show us how much of that fear is perhaps unnecessary. The result is a fun, carefully pitched, popular-science title that mixes great true-life stories with the psychology of fear, the statistical probabilities of things happening and a lot of reassurance. Discover more funny science with How Loud Can You Burp?. This is a children's book that has a high level of realism and subtly helps interpret the sounds of the night. You will remember, as a child, those first few minutes when you were left in your own bed alone. Sudden solitude and the absence of your parents magnified every sound, an effect made more frightening if you lived in the quiet of the bush. The first book in a hilarious chapter book series that tackles anxiety in a fun, kid-friendly way. Perfect for both beginning and reluctant readers, and fans of Diary of a Wimpy Kid! A humorous and touching series about facing your fears and embracing new experiences—with a truly unforgettable character—from author Lenore Look and New York Times bestselling and Caldecott Honor winning illustrator LeLuyen Pham. Alvin, an Asian American second grader, is afraid of everything—elevators, tunnels, girls, and, most of all, school. He's so afraid of school that, while he's there, he never, ever, says a word. But at home, Alvin is a very loud superhero named Firecracker Man, a brother to Calvin and Anibelly, and a gentleman-in-training, just like his dad. With the help of his family, can Alvin take on the outside world without letting his fears get the best of him? "Alvin's a winner." —New York Post Barnaby Richards is an illustrator and cartoonist. In this little book he has made an illustrated list of twenty things he considers scary or frightening. A 2020 Newbery Honor Recipient! Christian McKay Heidicker, author of the Thieves of Weirdwood trilogy, draws inspiration from Bram Stoker, H. P. Lovecraft and Edgar Allan Poe for his debut middle-grade novel, a thrilling portrait of survival and an unforgettable tale of friendship. "Clever and harrowing." —The Wall Street Journal "Into the finest tradition of storytelling steps Christian McKay Heidicker with these highly original, bone-chilling, and ultimately heart-warming stories. All that's needed is a blazing campfire and a delicious plate of peaches and centipedes." —Kathi Appelt, Newbery Award honoree and National Book Award finalist The haunted season has arrived in the Antler Wood. No fox kit is safe. When Mia and Uly are separated from their litters, they discover a dangerous world full of monsters. In order to find a den to call home, they must venture through field and forest, facing unspeakable things that dwell in the darkness: a zombie who hungers for their flesh, a witch who tries to steal their skins, a ghost who hunts them through the snow . . . and other things too scary to mention. Featuring eight interconnected stories and sixteen hauntingly beautiful illustrations, Scary Stories for Young Foxes contains the kinds of adventures and thrills you love to listen to beside a campfire in the dark of night. Fans of Neil Gaiman, Jonathan Auxier, and R. L. Stine have found their next favorite book. A Booklist 2019 Editors' Choice Selection Danny Marble is an expert on things that go bump in the night, but it's the last thing he wants to be. He'd gladly trade his expertise for a full night of sleep: something he hasn't had in over three years. Tortured into insomnia by scary things at home and taunted for insomnia by children at school, Danny is desperate to rid himself of his torments and all aspects of his fear. But he soon realizes that his scary things are unlike the usual phantoms conjured by a child's mind and fear is not something easily conquered. His quest calls him into strange worlds, from an island of dreams to the mythical Hades, where his path to salvation may lie in facing fears he didn't even know he had. With chilling illustrations and Jessica McHugh's eerie imagination at the helm, "Danny Marble & the Application for Non-Scary Things" is a terrifying and touching tale of one boy's struggle to conquer his demons, and above all, discover the true nature of fear. Suggests a variety of activities related to Halloween, including making costumes, decorations, invitation cards, and snacks. Kids are fascinated by the gross and gory, and this book certainly delivers the gruesome goods. Alex is an alligator who has experienced 'scary' things. In this charmingly illustrated story, he talks about how this affects him and how he copes. By reading about the different parts of Alex that come out because of the scary things he has experienced, such as The Destroyer when he is angry, Spacey when he dissociates, and Puddles when he is sad, children will learn to recognise when they experience these emotions themselves and find solutions for overcoming them. Alex talks about the different coping strategies he uses to get back to being himself, such as breathing techniques, a counting game, painting, and finding a safe space he can go to, encouraging children to think about when they can do to help themselves handle difficult feelings. An essential resource for professionals working with children who have experienced trauma, including social workers, counsellors, therapists, and child psychologists, as well as for parents and foster carers. Suitable for children aged approximately 4 to 8 years. Knowledge is power, something that is essential for anyone delving into the world of the paranormal. Dark and Scary Things flings open the door, allowing you to take a long look at the monster in the closet. Growing up as a sensitive, Joni Mayhan was terrified of the dark and scary things that lurked at the edges of her existence. Over the years, she learned more about the things that scared her. In this book she explores the paranormal world, answering some of the age-old questions that have mystified us for years, while providing people with metaphysical abilities a guideline on how to survive in a world filled with shadows. Have you ever wondered if you have a sixth sense? Explore the various Clair abilities, while learning how each ability works. Do your ears ever ring for no apparent reason? Do you sometimes become suddenly nauseated? Are you a ghost magnet? Many of the signs of metaphysical abilities are subtle. When I first came into my gifts, I had nowhere to turn and found the process terrifying. Through time and research, I learned that having a metaphysical ability can actually be a blessing if you know how to use it and keep yourself protected in the process. Learn about the invisible world around us as we cover many of the topics that shape our existence as sensitives and mediums. What is a ghost? Can pets become ghosts? What happens when we die? Do I have a sixth sense? How can I keep myself protected? Can my Spirit Guide help me? How can I activate my Chakras? How can raising my vibration help keep me protected? What is Astral Projection and Remote Viewing? How do I get the dead to talk to me? ...and many more. Taken directly from her Paranormal 101 Class notes and her book Ghostly Defenses, Dark and Scary Things is filled with stories and information that will leave you with a better knowledge of the paranormal world around you. Can you draw a ghoulish on a bike? What about a haunted suit of armour? Or how about a monster with a stomach ache? Find out using the senses of touch and sight. Gary J. Green takes readers on a unique odyssey of the strange and scary. Learn about everything from Bigfoot to aliens. A fun and educational read for teens to adults. I've always said I'm not afraid of ghosts or spirits. Nobody could frighten me with their ghost stories because "there's no such thing as a ghost," I thought. But believe me, after my experience and to all the stories I've heard so far from people who have experienced it, I now know better. I know there are many other people who do not believe in ghosts either. Some will say it's imagination. There are many other people who definitely believe in ghosts. Some say it's spirits. Dead people whose souls cannot get to rest. Annabelle loves stories about witches and goblins and monsters. She loves them, that is, in the daytime. At bedtime those same stories creep back into her imagination and Annabelle is too afraid to sleep. One night her mother has a special idea. Maybe the things that make Annabelle feel scared can make her laugh instead? "It's rare to find a children's book that appeals to all ages, but this one gets our whole family laughing. Amie Williamson brilliantly addresses a universal challenge: the creepy things that are so amusing during the day can leave our kids feeling frightened at night. This lovable book is an excellent parenting tool for teaching children to conquer their own fears in an easy and delightful way. I don't know which is more fun: reading this book with my children, or the imaginative conversations afterwards." - Shari Shallard, mother of Stella 9, Harrison 6, Henry 2 Presents a variety of unusual and noteworthy details about creatures in real life and folklore that inspire fear, including tiny but frightening creatures, legendary animals, monsters, space aliens, and ghosts.
