Campfire Verses Apr 23 2020 Campfire Verses

is a collection of previously unpublished stories in verse form. They are all campfire-worthy, and they are also suitable to use in lessons, talks, and anything else where tales with a moral would be useful. These tales are the result of the author's lifetime of service to young people, which required the preparation of countless presentations on a variety of topics. As all of the traditional scary stories and tall tales wore thin from overuse, the author yearned for the uniqueness and attention-riveting power of fresh new tales, so he began to write his own. Some of the lessons that can be learned around the campfire are found in poems such as: the Method Don't take shortcuts to success. the Eagle and the Chicken You will become like the people you associate with. You're on Commit Be committed to your path. the Keeper of the Train Trust in God. the Eagle Scout Be dependable. Live up to your reputation. the Two Wolves Within No man can serve two masters. Stories for Around the Campfire Jun 06 2021 In this age of technology, video games, and texting, families have lost contact with each other and have created a world within themselves. Parents are too busy with their jobs making money to buy more technology to entertain their children. The children are wrapped up in their cell phones continuously texting to their friends, oblivious to their family around them. Growing up before the age of computers, I had the opportunity to experience the old fashion art of storytelling. I would like to believe that this art has not been forgotten but has only taken a back seat to progress. These stories are an attempt to break away from our modern vices and take time to have family time. Many have forgotten this magic art and need a little boost to their imagination. These stories can be told to your children in backyard campouts away from cell phones and computers. With these stories, you may be given a boost to your own imagination so you can tell your own stories to your children. Give it a try.

Around The Campfire Jun 25 2020 Australia Bush Poetry and Photographs Award winning poetry penned by outback prospector Terry Piggott. This is his first book of poetry from his times in the gold fields and towns in the far west of Western Australia. Golden nuggets from the earth and golden moments around his campfires with the people he meets inspire the rhythms of the words. Within the pages of this book, the photographs show the extremes of beauty and harshness that make the Australian Outback a special place on earth.

Thirteen Terrifying Tales to Tell Around the Campfire Aug 08 2021 Almost everyone enjoys a good scare now and then, especially kids. In recent years, much of the 'scary' stuff that's out there relies on blood and a bucketful of guts to gross out the reader, viewer or listener. These stories should be a welcome break from those kinds of scares, relying more on imagination and creepiness rather than gore, at least that was the intent when I sat down to write these. A word of caution, some children may not be up to some of the tales contained within-if in doubt give these stories a quick skim before reading them aloud around a campfire or at a sleepover. Of course feel free to change endings or omit parts you think may be disturbing to the little listeners. In that light, the last story might be the one to end with if you want them to get to sleep on time, as it's a bit silly and has a funny ending-at least it was funny when I first heard my uncle tell it to me when I was a little kid, and I guess it still kind of is, so I guess I haven't grown up that much. Other than the final tale which is loosely based on an old story many may have heard in some form, and which was passed down the generations from my family, these stories are all my original creations, gathered from ideas and nightmares I remember being scared of when I was a child, and some, I must admit, still scare me to this day. Remember, there's no shame in sleeping with a nightlight, or in letting the batteries drain on your flashlight when you leave it on all night next to your sleeping bag within easy grasp. After all, it can't do any harm, and no one else has to know...
